South of Mont des Singes the Germans penetrated the French positions over a front of 400 yards and north of Molsy farm the Germans gained on a line 200 yards wide. All the attacks were preceded by heavy bombardment.

SUFFRAGISTS CAUSE MORE RIOT; HECKLE PRESIDENT AGAIN

NEW SIGNS ARE PUT UP BY THE "SILENT SENTINELS" AT WHITE HOUSE; CROWD ANGERED.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 21.—Suffragists pickets at the White House gate were subjected to real mob violence this afternoon. Enraged because of an attempt earlier in the day to raise the banner attacking President Wilson and Ellhu Root resulting in mild rioting yesterday, a mob attacked the regular suffrage pickets who have stood at the gates of the mansion for 251 days. Their banners were torn from their hands. The mob was made up principally of government clerks returning from lunch, and was led by Mrs. D. W. Richardson, an anti-suffragist of Missouri. Mrs. Richardson was arrested.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 21.—A third riot has been staged in front of the White House, two of them being staged today when suffragists of the national woman's party again raised aloft a banner attacking President Wilson and the American mission to Russia.
A crowd of nearly 200 persons gathered today following news that the suffragists would erect another banner like the one torn down yesterday.
When the banner was erected it was as promptly torn down by the crowd as the one on yesterday. Later it was declared that another demonstration would be made and the crowds gathered, but did not wait for a banner to be raised, but attacked the "silent sentinels."

ENTHUSIASM FOR RED CROSS STIRRED BY BIG GATHERING AT WESTMINSTER

MAYOR PAYNE, CHAS. BASSETT, REV. E. L. GRAU, MRS. W. E. TODD AND SECRETARY THOMPSON ARE THE SPEAKERS.

WORK OF NURSES IN 1898

FRIGHTFUL CONDITIONS DURING SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR ARE TOLD BY Y. M. C. A. MAN WHO EXPERIENCED THEM.

"As sure as the sun shines some of your boys are going to be hurt in this war, and you had better make arrangements to let a Red Cross nurse follow him to Europe."

This sentiment from Mayor Payne, who was the last speaker at the Red Cross meeting at the Westminster Presbyterian church last night, met with a hearty response. Mr. Payne also dwelt on the contrast between the Red Cross work we are doing to what Canada, with only 8,000,000 people, had done, who have spent ten dollars for the work to our one dollar.
In his address Mayor Bassett produced a deep impression by calling attention to the fact that if Red Cross work had been done in the civil war hospitals, fifty per cent of the wounded would have lived, where, as it was, they died. Mr. Bassett, who fought all through the war, said that in his opinion, in that struggle more men died of disease than were killed in battle.

Said Mayor Bassett in one of his eloquent passages: "The Red Cross workers, the very best people in Europe, are going to help care for our boys, who are fighting for us, in behalf of humanity and liberty, and it is up to us to do our share and we are going to do it. We will do our part for our boys who fight our battles to keep the horrors of war from approaching our shores."
According to Mr. Bassett, the Albany Red Cross society is going to enroll at least one thousand names. "The work of this society appeals to the best sentiment of every intelligent human being," was an expression of this speaker.

Prior to Mayor Bassett, Secretary Thompson of the Y. M. C. A., was called on to give his testimony as to Red Cross work in the Spanish-American war. In that war, Mr. Thompson, then a medical student, went into the medical corps, and was stationed at Ft. Meyer, Va.

As the war proceeded Cuban fever began to make its ravages among the soldiers, and most of them who became sick were returned to the states and treated at Ft. Meyer. In the first weeks of their treatment the soldiers had nothing of the Red Cross work done for them, and during this time, according to Dr. Thompson, "the boys died so fast that the practice of firing the customary military salute over their remains was ordered stopped, as it had such a depressing effect over the sick soldiers."

"After several months of this kind of thing all at once there swooped down from Washington three hundred Red Cross nurses. In a few hours screens were put up to protect the soldiers and their food, and in a very short time the death rate fell more than a hundred per cent. Where cold indifference had existed as to the life or death of those poor fellows, with the Red Cross nurses came the healing hand and the tear of sympathy. Many a time I saw nurses leaning over to catch the last words of a dying soldier, and later she would write her boy's last words home to his mother."

Mrs. W. E. Todd gave an interesting history of America's Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton, the founder of the Red Cross in this country and its president for many years, until failing health forced Miss Barton to give over her great work to others.
In the absence of H. L. Turner, Rev. E. L. Grau, who presided at the meeting, gave a brief history of the whole Red Cross movement, both in this country and in Europe.

Mr. Grau spoke forcefully as to the duty of all to contribute to the Red Cross work, saying among other things, that this society had spent

AMERICAN WARSHIP RAMS AND DESTROYS A GERMAN U-BOAT

British Announcement of Increased Activities by Subs Causes Feeling of Gloom at Washington

RUSH TO BUILD SHIPS RE-DOUBLED

Government Officials Fear U-Boats Will Increase Damage to Shipping. Britain Gives Figures

(International News Service.)
An American Naval Base in Great Britain, June 21.—A German submarine has been rammed and sunk by a United States destroyer, according to belief expressed here today by a member of the crew of the warship, which put into port today.

A feature of the incident was that the American bluejacket who sighted and reported the submarine is the son of German parents.
The destroyer was proceeding through a calm sea when a periscope was sighted. The submarine began to submerge, but before she disappeared entirely the destroyer was almost on top of her. All hands rushed to the rail. Suddenly there was a cry from the German-born sailor: "There she is."

The American warship was too close to use her guns, so the commander swung his ship about and those on the deck say they felt a perceptible shock of collision.

This is the first German submarine that the American destroyers claim to have destroyed.

Paris, June 21.—Eight men were killed when a life boat from a torpedoed British steamer was shelled by a German submarine, said an official announcement issued by the admiralty. The survivors were picked up by a French patrol boat.

U. S. STIRRED BY NEWS OF U-BOAT ACTIVITIES.

(International News Service.)

The shipping board and emergency fleet corporation officials met to discuss methods of securing even greater speed on the "food fleet" construction.

Government officials did not conceal their fear that sinkings may continue on the upward trend.

W. J. BRYAN ADDS VOICE FOR WILSON'S FOOD BILL.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 21.—"A government that commandeers the lives of its young men and calls for the money of its elder men should have power to protect the whole people from the greed of an unpatriotic few."

BONE DRY CLAUSE MAY GO IN FOOD CONTROL BILL

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 21.—An amendment to the administration's food bill which, rigidly enforced, would make the United States "bone dry," will be offered in the house of representatives by Representative Webb of North Carolina, leader of many temperance fights in the lower branch of congress.

Mr. Webb announced today his purpose of proposing a change in the Lever bill giving the president power to commandeer all of the whiskey in the country, should he deem it advisable and redistill the confiscated spirits into alcohol to be used in the making of munitions and for hospital and scientific purposes.

The food bill already gives the president authority to stop the manufacture of all kinds of alcoholic liquors, malt, as well as spirituous during the war, if he deems it in the interest of the country to take such action.
Representative Webb declared that if congress will adopt his amendment drunkenness will be decreased to a minimum and the efficiency of the country will be brought to a maximum.

SUFFRAGISTS MADE BAD MOVE IN PICKETING.

The "peaceful" picketing of the White House by suffragists was commenced in an effort to impress President Wilson and congress with the merits of the cause of votes for women.

The Daily does not profess to know whether this picketing has done anything toward advancing suffrage in the United States or not, but the Daily is confident that the incident yesterday in which the women hoisted a disgusting sign for the benefit of the Russian mission, acted as a boomerang and set suffrage back several years.

The sign which was so offensive to a crowd of men and women who had gathered to watch the Russian mission to the United States make its call on President Wilson, that they tore it down, read as follows:

To the Russian mission: President Wilson and Envoy Root are deceiving Russia. They say "we are a democracy; help us win a world war so that democracy may survive." We, the women of America, tell you that America is not a democracy. Twenty million American women are denied the right to vote. President Wilson is chief opponent of their national enfranchisement. Help us make this nation really free. Tell our government that it must liberate its people before it can claim free Russia as an ally.

There are some score or so millions of men and women in the United States who have read that sign on the pages of their newspapers and who feel a sense of honest shame at the bad taste displayed by the picketers. When the war began England was sorely beset with militant suffragettes who broke window lights out of the house of parliament and bombarded the dignified solons with bricks, in an effort to impress their claims on the lawmakers.

Have you heard a ripple from the suffragists in England since the Kaiser flung his helmeted legions across the plains of Belgium? You have not for the simple reason that the English suffragists saw from the first moment of the war that it would take their hands on deck to win over Germany. Internal dissensions would have taken the very heart out of England at that time. The women saw this and the women were patriotic and sensible enough—even the most Emeline Pankhurstian of them—to throw down their bricks and grab a broom. By peaceful methods they gained their biggest victory only yesterday.

American suffragists, however—or at least the little coterie that endorse the picketing methods at the capital—seemed to have taken a different view of the situation. Not content with the victories they are winning in the states each year, they have resorted to the methods that culminated in the outrageous and almost treasonable incident of yesterday.

At a time when the president of the United States is sorely pressed by a reluctant congress, worried by a small element of disloyalty scattered about the cities of the country and his shoulders borne down by the weight of a bitter foreign war that was not of his making, such methods as these are taken up by American women! Are not the suffragists who endorse such methods at least as patriotic as the men who constitutional privileges they envy and covet? But if virtue is its own reward, bad taste is its own punishment. Without the suggestion of any official action against the picketers, they are suffering today from the effects of their misdeeds. We cannot be brought to believe, for instance, that Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw, one of America's gentlest and most lovable of women, for all that has been said about her, endorses these methods. We do not believe that Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, one of America's shrewdest leaders in the feminist movement, gave her endorsement to the scheme.

Concrete evidence that the doings of yesterday lost the suffragists friends is found in the press of this morning. The Nashville Tennessean and American, for instance, probably the most enthusiastic champion of votes for women in the South, says under the editorial headline, "Banners of Shame!"

The bitterest enemy of woman suffrage could not have dealt it a blow as severe as that given yesterday by this insult to the American government. Whatever branch or clique of the suffrage workers may have been responsible, the effect of this will be felt over the entire nation.

This paper has always been and still is a supporter of the cause of woman suffrage. Suffrage leaders of Tennessee know that the Tennessean and American has done all it could to aid their work. But we would sacrifice our patriotism now did we not raise our voice in protest against any spirit such as prompted the outrage at the national capital against the national honor.

American suffragists will find that they will gain more ground by acting like sensible women than in any other way. It is trite, but true, that men admire and love womanly women who would not stoop to such acts as this to gain their end.

Suffrage is five years further off than it was yesterday.

IN LIMBS AND LIVES AND IN DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Four thousand dollars for your boy's eyes, $4,000 for his ears, for his hands $1,000 each, and for his lower limbs $2,000 each—$13,000 in all—accident insurance companies allow your boy for the loss of these limbs and organs. This community should take out Red Cross insurance like this on at least one of our soldier boys. We should raise at the very least $13,000.

But how does the Red Cross insure the limbs of our soldiers? In the first place, by quick nourishment to the whole body the minute the soldier falls, or as quickly thereafter as possible. As a matter of fact, the Red Cross actually saves fifty out of every hundred, that without its treatment would surely die, according to best authorities.

Fifty per cent brought back from the jaws of death? you inquire. But how is it done?

By its quick action the Red Cross saves nearly all the limbs of the wounded, thus preventing the too common practice of amputating wounded limbs, by giving cooling drafts of water to the wounded; by first aid to wounds and the use of antiseptics to keep off gangrene, lockjaw, blood poisoning and by treatment to prevent stiffened and useless limbs; by preventing death from starvation among the wounded, and by insisting on cleanliness.

The Red Cross looks out against soldiers drinking poisoned water, a very important service in view of the bellicose disposition of the Germans to poison all the water they can. The Red Cross also furnishes social comfort, to say nothing of religious solace both to the living and the dying.

Then, does the Red Cross give value received? If it saved you only $13,000 in saving the limbs of enough soldiers to make that amount, on the basis of accident insurance policies, you will be out nothing.

But will not our $13,000 put the Red Cross in the way of accomplishing untold thousands more good than merely saving in dollars and cents?

Finally, does the Red Cross command our support? We, we should say so. As President Wilson said in Nashville, let us say to each other, "Let your generosity be measured by the great need."

FRICTION BETWEEN GERMANY AND AUSTRIA IS GROWING.

It is very evident that the Kaiser is asking that same question, slightly changed, that Birmingham editors ask themselves every Sunday morning: "What is the matter with Austria?"

A number of things seem to be ailing Austria. Chief among these is the feeling among the Austrians that Germany also planned to gobble up Austria when she planned in the ante-bellum days to carry her bucket of blood culture to foreign strands. England and her trade was the big prize for the Kaiser and the other near-statesmen with military mustaches who sat on the empty beer kegs around Potsdam Palace and discussed the easiest way to kill the most women and children in the war that they were to bring on the world. Then France was worth fighting for. Incidentally when the enemies of Germany were brought to their knees, it might be likely that Austria-Hungary would look good as a German province.

At least so it has begun to look to a number of Austro-Hungarian statesmen who have begun to get hot in their collars as the complete returns begin to come in from Germany.

We would not be surprised if there is found to be a grain or two of truth in the matter if the whole batch of rumors and counter-rumors were sifted to the bottom. And we would be willing to wager that the most productive field for revolutionary agitation is found in Austria—far better than Germany where the iron personality of the Kaiser rules by the power of might and fear.

THE U-BOAT MENACE; WE WILL WIN ANYWAY!

Press dispatches to the Daily yesterday told of the renewed operations of the German submarines and hinted that an official admiralty statement to come later would confirm the suspicion that the U-boats are again active as never before.

The plain truth about the business seems to be that the German submarines are growing in power and ruthlessness. We thought the summit of German audacity and brutality had been reached on the seas when the Lusitania was sunk and hundreds of men, women and children were murdered, but now the toll of the submarines approximates the life loss of the Lusitania within almost any month.

It is not apparent to the American people that the submarines will prevent them from winning the war in time, but it is very patent that the U-boats will hinder our operations. They will not impede our progress for long any more than gnats will stop the course of a charging elephant but they are a source of worry and danger.

What must America do about the U-boats? No one knows. We are waiting patiently for some American inventive genius to evolve some panacea for the pests, but none has come yet. We are hoping that even some slower, but none the less surer, method of dealing with the underwater boats will be discovered, but even then avenue seems closed to us. We may even have to send our troops across the waters while the submarines are still operating. No one knows.

But this we do know—we can win whether the submarines are swept from the seas or not. We can win by sheer force of numbers and Yankee nerve. If ten per cent of the ships that are sent to our allies are torpedoed we can send more ships and keep the constant supply of war munitions to Europe unimpaired. The submarines are troublesome, but we can win in spite of them.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

There was something fine and free about the manner of America when she oversubscribed the Liberty Loan almost a cool billion dollars. The spirit of the twentieth century American was shown in its best light from Maine to California and from Alaska to the everglades of Florida.

A great deal of this spirit was in the South. Although nothing was said of the fact at the time, the Daily has been told by officials of the Decatur Cornice & Roofing Company, one of our largest industries, that every man on the payroll of the company, every man in the employ of the company, from the apprentice in the shops to the president of the concern, bought at least one Liberty bond.

Other local concerns did their part nobly. Both the Albany and Decatur postoffice forces subscribed to the extent of their man-power, every man in each office purchasing a bond. The banks did their bit, beyond a doubt. The L. & N. shops were heard from, too.

The Kaiser can't whip a country that has men like that!

The Birmingham Ledger makes a valuable suggestion when it asks that Secretary McAdoo accept the billion dollars over-subscription to the Liberty Loan on the next loan which the government will float in September or else increase the size of the present loan. It seems a pity to have to turn back a billion dollars which was subscribed in good faith and which the owners intended to be used for purchasing bonds. The government ought to accept the money by all means, and thus make easier the floating of the new loan.

What is so interesting to a father than to know that his baby has four new teeth? That might even interest handsome Harry Ayres of the Anliston Star.

Government Should Issue Short Term Loans In Financing War

By Professor E. R. A. SELIGMAN, Columbia University

THE problem of financing the war resolves into the arguments on loans versus taxes, the kind of indebtedness to be incurred and the methods of taxation. The wisest course for the United States lies between the extremes of raising money solely by borrowing and solely by taxation.

If we are to count on an expenditure of not far from ten billions the first year and a similar sum the second year of war it would be necessary to raise by new taxation for the first year of the war at least one and one-half billion dollars (half a billion for interest, one billion for amortization) and during the second year three billions.

THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROFIT FROM EXPERIENCE AND SHOULD ISSUE BONDS TO RUN FOR NOT MORE THAN TEN YEARS OR, AT THE OUTSIDE, TWENTY YEARS.

It would be deplorable if such gigantic issues as we have in contemplation were to be made with the simple prospect of refunding the loans at some future time, particularly in view of the strength of our present economic position. A PERPETUAL DEBT OR EVEN A LONG DEBT MUST BE AVOIDED.

Just In Passing

KNOWS GERMAN KULTUR.

"I know fully of the much discussed German efficiency, but I have always had confidence in the French, and now since America is helping so nobly, as LaFayette helped the United States in the war of the revolution, the Germans will continue to be driven back," said N. B. Levinge, who has charge of the construction of the annex to the Lyons hotel.

Mr. Levinge is a Frenchman by birth, but while he was a boy he was sent to school in Berlin where he learned much of German "kultur."

Couldn't Foo' Willie.

"Sis," cried a boy, bursting into the parlor, where a young lady was seated on the sofa with her best young man.

"Yes, Willie," was the young lady's reply, as she drew the small brother to her side and kissed him. "What do you want?"

"I want to tell you something."

"Won't you care what I say?"

"No, I guess not."

"Well, then, I know why you kiss me every Wednesday night."

"I kiss you because I love you, Willie, of course."

"That ain't the reason, sis!" and the boy edged slowly toward the open door. "You kiss me so George can see what he is missing."

Evolution of Paper.

The earliest substitute for our modern paper was clay tablets; the next stage came with the use by the Egyptians of the layers forming the stem of the papyrus leaves. Later skins of animals were used. Linen and cotton rags were not used for the manufacture of paper until the eighth century. In the last of the thirteenth century paper was manufactured in Italy from rags and flax. The first machine for manufacturing paper in bulk was set up early in the nineteenth century in England. During the latter part of the century raw material other than woven stuffs began to be used. Of late years wood pulp has been used in large amounts for paper making.

PHTHISIS IS ON DECLINE

Dread Disease May Be Obliterated in Another Decade if Decrease Continues at Present Rate.

If tuberculosis shall continue to decrease in this country at the same rate as in the past half century, it will be obliterated in another decade. This is the opinion of Dr. Cleveland Floyd, expressed at the Harvard Medical school. There are two conditions, however, which will prevent the complete obliteration of this lung disease at present, and these are poverty and lack of hygienic surroundings.

Doctor Floyd said that almost everybody has the germs of this disease in his system, but that he is able to resist their attack through living a healthy life and through the protection of nature.

Inhalation and infection are the two common ways by which a person contracts tuberculosis. Children may get the germs in impure milk, but outdoor play prevents the spread. It often happens, however, that when people go to work in shops or insanitary offices, or live in crowded rooms, the disease shows itself and gains a foothold. This is why so many persons between the ages of nineteen and thirty-two acquire tuberculosis.

Getting Together

In this day and age, nothing is so beneficial in business as getting together.

We are something more than Bankers—something more than just a safe place to store your money—something more than a pass-book, check or vault.

We are a very human lot of individuals, and it is a matter of pride with us, that aside from the responsibilities we have developed in our business, we have always cultivated the friendship of those whom we serve.

COME IN—LET'S GET TOGETHER.

"ANURICI" THE NEWEST DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anurici" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anurici," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Doctor Pierce for a free sample. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge.

NOTE:—French scientists affirm that "Anurici" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anurici" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.

Youth.

There is God's gift of youth, inexpressible, beautiful, glorious, divine. It is for youth that the rest of us live; it is for them that we labor, suffer, and endure; it is for them that we flout the ills of life; it is for them that we are blind to death. Youth, wonderful youth, so great a gift to possess, so infinitely greater a gift to perceive in boys and girls about you!—H. D. Sedgwick, in the Atlantic Magazine.

To Receive Bids on Gordon School Work

Bids are to be received for the improvements to be made on the Gordon school and the high school building. The finance committee of the Albany city council inspected the building yesterday afternoon, taking note of the improvements needed.

The basement of the Gordon school is to be overhauled so that water will not run into it as it did last year, thus causing the children to wade through the water after big rains. Also there will be another exit from the second story as a necessity in case of fire.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot...I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it...I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me...for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for advertising."

the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less...I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life...I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

$235,000,000 in Belgium alone, and it looked like we could raise at least $100,000,000 for our own boys. Dr. Grau, as well as Mayor Payne, thought $100,000,000 a rather low figure for this great nation to give in such a great work.

Mr. Payne, in his address, impressed the fact that today and tomorrow every family in Albany would be visited and given an invitation to contribute to the Red Cross work.

Last night's program was greatly enjoyed because of the excellent musical program which was carried out under the direction of Miss Florence Bassett.
